

MIDEAST NUCLEAR WAR INEVITABLE?

• Is the alliance between the United States, the British Empire and Israel a paper tiger or a mighty empire? • Is global “Empire Capitalism” about to come crashing down? • Will there be a worldwide “people’s war” against the super-capitalists and their Zionist allies? • Can nuclear war be averted?

These are just a few of the provocative questions addressed in a forthright, no-holds-barred new book by a former high-ranking Asian political figure and globe-trotting diplomat now being published for the first time ever in the United States . . .

A knock-out punch to the New World Order . . .

In Future Fastforward, author Matthias Chang, former top-level political secretary for Malaysia’s outspoken longtime prime minister, Dr. Mahathir Mohamad, takes a stark look at the realities of global power politics and the ultimate and inevitable consequences for the not-so-secret forces that are behind the push for a New World Order.

A history-making book you’ll find hard to put down . . .

What makes Future Fastforward especially powerful and fascinating is that this is the first book critical of the New World Order and the Zionist-Anglo-American elite written by a former high-ranking official of a major foreign government to be published on American soil.

And American Free Press has been honored by Matthias Chang with the opportunity to do it.

In short, Future Fastforward is a history-making document and a “must” read for all Americans who not only hope to have an understanding of the forces that led the United States into the world quagmire where it is today but who also pray for a better future, one in which the New World Order intriguers can be brought to heel.

WORLD WAR IV is NOW UNDER WAY:

“The Zionist-Anglo-American War Cabal ruthlessly manufactures wars, armed conflicts, coups d’etat and the overthrow of democratically elected governments whenever and wherever it falls in with their plans. The two World Wars were the result of Zionist endeavors as was the Cold War (or World War III) and so was the illegal invasion and the resultant occupation of Afghanistan and Iraq that began World War IV.”

A Candid Foreign View: Zionist-Anglo-American Empire Meltdown

Author Matthias Chang's Future Fastforward Explains Why

BY MICHAEL COLLINS PIPER

Future FastForward: The Zionist-Anglo-American Empire Meltdown, by the Honorable Matthias Chang, is a remarkable "insider's" view of world power politics from a point of view that few Americans—including regular AFP readers—have ever had the opportunity of hearing.

The grandchild of Chinese immigrants to Malaysia, Chang is a Christian by faith, educated throughout his childhood and into his college years in England, where he also obtained his degree in law.

Although still a young man, the author has been one of the foremost corporate attorneys in the rising Southeast Asian powerhouse of Malaysia.

However, Chang has also been very active in public affairs, and during the closing years of the administration of his country's internationally respected (and highly "controversial") Prime Minister Dr. Mahathir Mohamad, Chang served as "political secretary," that is—top political advisor—to Dr. Mohamad.

In fact, it was while Chang was serving as the prime minister's advisor that the outspoken Malaysian leader—who has long been (and remains) highly regarded throughout the Third World—created a major stir in 2003 when, in the course of an extended lecture before an international gathering of leaders from Muslim countries, he stated that "Jews rule the world by proxy," only one brief comment in a lengthy discourse, but one that was enough to incite a global media frenzy.

While Chang's views, as presented in Future Fastforward, are exclusively his own, and are not to be construed as those of Dr. Mohamad or any other Malaysian leader (other than Chang), it can accurately be said in assessment that Chang's views represent a growing body of thought throughout a vast world which has come to see the ruling elite among the U.S.-British-Israeli axis as embodying the interests of global Zionism and international capitalism rather than Americanism.

Available for the first time in the United States—exclusively from American Free Press (originally printed in Malaysia).

Chang is no armchair observer. He's traveled all over the world—from Antarctica to Iraq and Palestine and beyond—on official government missions, meeting with high-level decision makers and playing a key part in the affairs of his own fast-rising Asian republic.

Written in a down-to-earth reader-friendly style, Future Fastforward boils down some of the most tendentious issues of the day, related to the course of global economy and political affairs, and makes it possible for the proverbial "man on the street" to understand some of the more esoteric (even hidden) underpinnings of the international system: for example, the "black" economy of illicit drugs and money laundering as it is intertwined with the international banking networks and the governments they control.

Although originally written for publication in Malaysia (where English is widely spoken), Chang's book, by the nature of its powerful historical overview and the current affairs analysis and prospects for the future that it imparts, is one that can nonetheless be read by Americans with ease since America, its past and its future, are all part and parcel of the wide-ranging array of topics Chang covers in 400 thoroughly-documented and fascinating pages.

However, despite the power and financial control in the hands of the elite, Chang says that all is not well for their future. In assessing the American economy, which Chang does with the skill of the top corporate attorney and former high-level government official that he is, the Malaysian author states in no uncertain terms that "the U.S. cannot rely on a war economy and the avarice of Wall Street bankers and hedge fund managers to put things right."

In short, the "financial mess," as Chang calls it, will soon come full circle to haunt the United States as its corrupt behind-the-scenes rulers and their bought-and-paid-for henchmen in government struggle to prop up their collapsing empire. Chang writes: "We must have no illusions as to the predatory nature of the Zionist-Anglo-American Empire. It is in its death throes, and as such, will do everything in its power to prolong its survival."

- The Black Economy—Drugs & Money Laundering

Exposing U.S. Big Money Power Politics

MALAYSIAN AUTHOR MATTHIAS CHANG is remarkably well-versed in American history (far better than most Americans, if truth be told) and knows that, in the past, Americans, as Chang quotes President John Quincy Adams, "[do not go] abroad, in search of monsters to destroy."

Chang has a respect for America's traditional "America First" political heritage and much of what Chang has to say could have been written by American patriots of the past such as Charles A. Lindbergh and Burton K. Wheeler and a bevy of others who fought the international war-mongers of their era.

American readers will be pleased to see that Chang is particularly well-versed in the intrigues of the history of Zionism and of the role of the Federal Reserve money monopoly in the U.S.

The first pillar of the Zionist imperial edifice, Chang concludes, was the establishment of the state of Israel.

The second key pillar, he says, is the Federal Reserve which has been the foundation of what Chang calls "Empire Finance"—whose tentacles reach throughout the world and which are interconnected to the global banking houses of Europe, dominated by the Rothschild family.

o-American Empire Faces Meltdown

"When a government repeatedly lies to its people for profits and power, and systematically erodes the constitutional rights of its people, it is a reflection that its very core has become evil and morally bankrupt."

—Matthias Chang
Future Fastforward

Recognizing, as did American populist intellectual Lawrence Dennis, that the powers-that-be have consistently used fear to stoke up war fever from which they intend to reap profits and expand their political power, Chang points out that:

Ideologies are mere camouflage for more mundane objectives—war profits. And there cannot be wars unless there are two opposing sides.

History has shown that war profiteers provoke wars and then fund both sides, and regardless which side wins, their bounty is assured.

The real enemy remains hidden, the Zionist-Anglo-American war profiteers and banking houses.

The whole "Iron Curtain" legend of the Cold War that saw a vast military build-up in the United States, even while top Zionists and Anglo-American financial interests knew full well that the Soviet edifice was crumbling was, as Chang writes "the fiction of Sir Winston Churchill."

And that is a hard truth that, even today, many self-styled American anti-communists have never been quite able to acknowledge. But now "the Muslims" have been substituted for "the communists" and war fever is at a pitch, and many more wars (and profits) are in the making.

While Chang says that "The hidden enemy will not go away quietly," he says that he is "also confident that patriotic Americans will rise to the occasion to claim back the United States that gave them the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution (those beacons in man's quest for freedom and the pursuit of happiness)." Chang adds:

The true patriots have made too many sacrifices to stand pat and allow the Zionist Neoconservative Cancer to overwhelm the body politic. I hold the firm belief that a consequence of the demise of the empire will be a New United States of America, faithful to its Constitution and founding principles, with a new vision and a new mission for a better world; one that is at peace with itself and with the community of nations.

EUSTACE MULLINS SALUTED BY MALAYSIAN AUTHOR

"I must acknowledge the great American patriot whose persistence and courage over the last 40 years have exposed the conspiracy that led to the formation of the Federal Reserve System. He is none other than Eustace Mullins who in 1952 published the pioneering work, Mullins on the Federal Reserve, which was commissioned by the great American poet and patriot Ezra Pound. I have learned more about international finance and banking from this treatise than any textbooks that I have studied as an economics student at the university level and ever since . . ."

EUSTACE MULLINS

—MATTHIAS CHANG
Writing in Future Fastforward

Chang makes it clear that neither America nor Americans are the object of his wrath: "America is not the target. Period! We must not make war with America. Shift the telescopic sight to the right target and everything falls into place and the right strategy will evolve to ensure victory over the Zionist-Anglo-American Empire headquarters in London and Tel Aviv—the twin pillars of the Zionist Imperial Edifice—not D.C. or New York."

This brief overview of Future Fastforward cannot do justice to this important work. It's all here—all that you need to know about how we came to where we are today. But, more importantly, you cannot have a clear understanding of the future course of world events until you have read Future Fastforward.

This geopolitical masterpiece is not only a hard-nosed assessment of current realities but it also provides a positive outlook for the years that lie ahead. It is a guidebook to America's—and the world's—path to survival. ★

Famed Moderate Muslim Statesman Denounces Bush & Zionist Advisors

Matthias Chang retired from active duty in Malaysian government service as the top-level political advisor to longtime Prime Minister Mahathir Mohamad. Here's an update on some recent "controversial" remarks by Dr. Mohamad.

By Michael Collins Piper

Dr. Mahathir Mohamad, often called the "Father of Modern Malaysia" and known worldwide as a leader of moderate Islam, is not backing down. In a recent interview with Britain's Guardian newspaper, the longtime Malaysian prime minister (who retired in 2003) declared the Bush administration a "rogue regime" and denounced Bush ally, British Prime Minister Tony Blair, as a "proven liar" for having propagated misinformation and disinformation put forth by Bush and his pro-Israel neo-conservative policy advisors.

The outspoken Malaysian, who is highly regarded throughout the Third World, created a major stir in 2003 when—in the course of an extended lecture before an international gathering of leaders from Muslim countries—he stated that "Jews rule the world by proxy," only one brief comment in a lengthy statement. Still, it incited a worldwide media firestorm. However, Mohamad told the Guardian that he was not prepared to withdraw his remarks. He said:

U.S. politicians are scared stiff of the Jews because anybody who votes against the Jews will lose elections. The Jews in America are supporting the Jews in Israel. Israel and other Jews control the most powerful nation in the world. And that is what I mean [about Jews controlling the world]. I stand by that view.

MAN OF PEACE: Above, former Malaysian Prime Minister Dr. Mahathir Mohamad (in office 1981-2003) points to the "believe in peace, not war" button he wore at a press conference in Putrajaya, Malaysia.

Mahathir's comments about the current behavior of the United States, particularly vis-à-vis its engagement in the Middle East, reflect not only Muslim opinion, but growing opinion in Europe and elsewhere. He told the Guardian:

The U.S. is the most powerful nation. It can ignore the world if it wants to do anything. It breaks international law. It arrests people outside their countries; it charges them under American law. It kills them . . . That is terror [and] the U.S. is as guilty of terrorism as the people who crashed their planes into the buildings. . . . Bush doesn't understand the rest of the world. He thinks everybody should be a neocon like him.

Coming from one of the world's foremost Muslim leaders—one who has urged his fellow Muslims to reject terrorism and extremism—Mahathir's assessment of the declared U.S. war on terrorism are particularly pointed and a very real caution to American policy-makers who are committed to advancing the interests of Israel:

Even if you get Bin Laden, you can't be sure there won't be another Bin Laden. You cannot get terrorists to sign a peace treaty. The only way to beat terror is to go for the basic causes. They don't blow themselves up for no reason, they're angry, they're frustrated.

And why are they angry? Look at the Palestinian situation. Fifty years after you created the state of Israel, things are going from bad to worse. If you don't settle that, there will be no end to the war on terror. For how long are you going to go on examining people's shoes?

Lest anyone be prepared to dismiss Mahathir's comments as "conspiracy theories from the Muslim world," note that as recently as May 11, 2005 the New York-based Forward, a leading Jewish community newspaper, reported that Barry Jacobs of the Washington office of the American Jewish Committee said that he believes that there are high-ranking officials inside the U.S. intelligence community who are hostile to Israel and thus waging war against pro-Israel lobbyists and their pro-Israel neo-conservative allies in the inner circles of the Bush administration. Citing the ongoing FBI investigation of possible espionage by officials of AIPAC, the leading pro-Israel lobby group, Forward reported that Jacobs believes, in Forward's summary, that "the notion that American Jews and Pentagon neo-conservatives conspired to push the United States into war against Iraq, and possibly also against Iran, is pervasive in Washington's intelligence community." ★
